

slice of Indy

INDY'S BEST PIZZA

Who makes Indy's best pizza? To find the answer we had dozens of Indy pizza restaurants submit a pepperoni pizza and a specialty pizza to our expert tasting panel. We conducted two tasting sessions, one at Easley Winery, the other at Chalkies. After consuming more than fifty pies—and enough carbohydrates to make Dr. Atkins roll over in his grave—our panel came up with seven pizza purveyors that are truly the Best of Indy.

WB PIZZA: One of our tasters' favorite pies.

Joseph Heidenreich
Chef/Owner, Agio and Smokey Joe's

Jim Arnold
Owner, Kahn's Fine Wines & Spirits

Scott DeSalvo
Chef, Restaurant at the Canterbury

Reid Duffy
INDIANAPOLIS dine Contributing Writer

Richard Cottance
Chef, Chalkies

WB PIZZA

6165 Allisonville Rd.
317-205-5555

[GRANT PARK PIZZA]

Richard Cottance: "Perfectly browned crust—very good sliced sausage with nice spiciness and good moist texture. Cheese tastes like cheese! Pepperoni has great flavor. A very good pie."

Joseph Heidenreich: "Now, I have to eat a lot of pie today, but I will have to finish this entire piece anyway. I may need a beer to help wash it down!"

Reid Duffy: "Sausage slice in tandem with pepperoni presents a dynamic flavor combo. The cheese is thick and high quality. Fine combination of flavors, spice, and quality."

